

A sombra da noite

Um casal resolveram se mudar para virgin river uma cidade pequena onde era tudo bem pertinho,o casal se chamavam Eloá e Breno eles tinham dois gêmeos que se chamavam Maria e Enzo eles tinham 8 anos. Na rua que eles moravam era sem saída e do lado da casa deles tinha uma casa que também estava a venda,mas essa casa toda noite fazia barulho mais ninguém conseguia saber oque era esse barulho.

Perto da rua deles tinha um cemitério muito sombrio todo mundo tinha medo de passar por lá,a mãe das crianças sempre falava não passem perto do cemitério,as crianças concordavam pois elas também tinham medo.

Depois de 7 meses um casal de senhores compraram a casa que estava a venda,mais essa casa era muito estranha por que nunca ninguém comprou ela. Toda noite essa casa fazia barulhos,mais os senhores não dava bola pois não escutavam,mais toda vizinhança avisava e falava para eles inclusive Eloá e breno que moravam ao lado.

Na noite seguinte as crianças resolveram sair escondido para ver o que era. Por volta de 21:30 da noite saíram, chegaram na casa mais estava fechada só tinha uma cortina aberta a da cozinha, só tinha uma luz acesa que era onde o senhor estava na cozinha, avistaram o senhor sozinho na cozinha.

Eloá -porque ele esta sozinho?

Enzo-não sei.

O senhor se levantou da cadeira que estava sentando e subiu pro sótão, mais as crianças não conseguiram ver o que tinha lá porque era noite não dava pra ver muito bem. Ficaram lá por um bom tempo cansaram voltaram para casa e foram dormir.

No dia seguinte os gêmeos resolveram não contar o que tinha acontecido.

Depois de dois dias 16:00 da tarde viram que o senhor estava saindo com um saco grande levando para o cemitério.

Dias, meses, e anos se passaram mais até hoje não descobriram o que tinha naquele sótão e naquele saco que o senhor estava carregando.

Toda noite a cidade ficava sombria e toda vizinhança avistava uma sombra caminhando pela cidade. Se trancavam dentro das casas, mais essa sombra só chegava perto da casa dos senhores, dava 00:30 essa sombra voltava para o cemitério.

Mais toda noite era a mesma coisa no mesmo horário e ninguém sabia o que era essa sombra.

A couple decided to move to Virgin River, a small town where everything was very close by, the couple's names were Eloá and Breno, they had two twins called Maria and Enzo, they were 8 years old. The street where they lived was a dead end and next to their house there was a house that was also for sale, but that house made noise every night but no one could know what the noise was. Near their street there was a very dark cemetery, everyone was afraid to go there, the children's mother always said don't go near the cemetery, the children agreed because they were also afraid. After 7 months, a couple of gentlemen bought the house that was for sale, but this house was very strange because no one ever bought it. Every night this house made noises, but the gentlemen didn't pay attention because they didn't listen, but the whole neighborhood warned them and told them, including Eloá and Breno who lived next door.

The following night the children decided to sneak out to see what it was. At around 9:30 pm they left, arrived at the house but it was closed, there was only one curtain open in the kitchen, there was only one light on which was where you were in the kitchen, they saw you alone in the kitchen. Eloá - why is he alone? Enzo-I don't know. The man got up from the chair he was sitting in and went up to the loft, but the children couldn't see what was there because it was night and they couldn't see very well. They stayed there for a long time, got tired, went home and went to sleep. The next day the twins decided not to tell what had happened. After two days at 4:00 pm they saw that the man was leaving with a large bag taking him to the cemetery.

Days, months, and years passed, but until today they still haven't discovered what was in that attic and in that bag that you were carrying. Every night the city became gloomy and every neighborhood saw a shadow walking through the city. They locked themselves inside the houses, but this shadow only came close to the master's house, at 00:30 this shadow returned to the cemetery. But every night it was the same thing at the same time and no one knew what this shadow was.
