

A PRINCESA ENCANTADA

On a very rainy night a beautiful girl called Alice was born, her hair was golden like gold. Soon after she was born, she was taken from her mother Maria by her boss, as she did not accept that her maids had children, so she took the girl and took her to a shelter.

As the years passed, Alice grew up with great kindness and honesty, a girl who enchanted everyone around her, loved reading adventure books and always dreamed of meeting her mother again.

Alice asked Dulce (who raised her) Did my real mother abandon me?

Dulce: No, my daughter didn't abandon you, you were taken away from your mother.

Alice: Will I see her again?

Dulce: Don't lose hope, my daughter.

So Alice decided to look for her mother, she was determined to find her again, she took her books because she believed that reading them would give her powers. She took the horse and went through the forest, Dulce was very worried because she was afraid of what she might find.

She passed through the forest until she reached the city, she was impressed by the size of the city as she had never left outside the shelter, she was tired as the journey was long so she took it and went to sleep in an inn. The next day Alice took it and showed her mother's photo to everyone, until her mother's aunt recognized the photo and was scared because she wouldn't imagine that her daughter was alive, so she took it and ran to tell her sister Maria.

Maria, Maria, your daughter is alive, she is alive.

Maria: she was very happy with the news and asked where is my daughter, sister?

Come with me and I'll take you to her. Maria was very happy, Alice was very nervous.

Then the two met again, Alice was very happy to finally meet her mother, the two spent hours and hours talking to each other. Maria told Alice what had happened, Alice then decided to report her mother's boss at the police station.

And in the end everything went well, her boss was arrested and Alice took her mother to the shelter and thanked Dulce for raising her so well, and everyone was fine.
