The holiday was coming and everybody had a great expectation about what they'll doing in it.

Julia was thinking if she going to the beach, staying at home or do something different. However, make the deciding was difficult. She doesn't know about what would the best choice.

"Hmm... I don't know what I'll gone. I can going to the beach with my family, but it's not sure that we go. Maybe if we don't go to the beach and we stay home I can do my homework and go out with my friends, they want to do something. But I don't know what's the best."

The holiday will be in the next day and Julia doesn't know what she will do.

In the morning, her sister calls she:

- Hey Julia, do you want going to do a travel with me? I'm going to the beach with my friends!

- Wow!! It looks nice, but I don't know. I will think about it.

Her sister will travel with her friends to visit a important and famous beach. Julia has thinking a lot about the possibility.

"I could going with my sister Anna. It can be amazing! But... I can feel me some lost with her friends, because I don't know them and I will be the only one that isn't a friend. Other thing, does Anna really want that I go with her, or she just invite me because I don't know what to do? But, in the other way, it can be very funny and we can have fun together. I need to have a decision!"

After she think a lot, Julia make a decision:

-Hey Anna, I go with you! I go with you to the beach!

-Really?! Obaaa! It is a good new!

-Yeah, I think so... Hahaha!

Therefore, was beginning a great adventure.

When Julia went home, she ran to pack her suitcase. She was thinking in all things that she would needed in the travel.

She took her yellow suitcase with the purple zipper. Then, she went to closet and took all her prefers clothes (pants, jeans, blouses, t-shirts, coats and many other things). This was a hard choice, but she do it. Julia didn't forget to pick up some books, if she had time to read, and took his guitar too.

When she was almost leaving, Julia remind that she was forgotten her phone and its loader. So, she run back to her bedroom and took them.

“Imagine forget the phone?! What I would do on holiday? Glad that I remembered it!”

Surely she was happy and excited with the travel, but she was a little nervous because everything was happening so fast.

When Julia was ready, she left to buy something to eat and drink on the car, because the trip would be long. After that, her parents took her to the place that Anna was waiting.

When they would start the travel, they was unbelievable:

-Can you believe that we are going to there? - said Anna.

-Well, yes, and I can say that it look like a dream! - answers Julia. They were very happy with the opportunity that they had. Julia and Anna said

"good bye" to their parents and enter the car, looking for a new adventure.

The trip was beginning. Anna was driving the car. Some girls were tired and slept. Julia stayed awake to talk with her sister.

They used the time to eat, they were very hungry. The journey lasted five hours. Julia and Mary had driving too, so, Anna could slept a little.

They would be in a flat in front of the sea, and when they arrived, they saw a beautiful sunset. The girls didn't think twice, they left the car and ran to the beach. They sat down on the sand and enjoyed the moment.

-Wow, it is so beautiful! The sun, the sea, the sand!! Ohhh!! – said Anna.

-Anna, definitely, I agree with you! It's so... wonderful! – Marry agree.

-Yeah!! I couldn't imagine that a sunset at the beach can be so magnificent. – Louisa commented.

-I just can thank you for invite me to this place! I'm so happy! – said Julia, thanking all the girls that made this travel possible to her.

-Well, I think that we need get in to organize our things! And... I'm little hungry too. Haha! – said Anna.

-Yeah!! Eat is a good idea! – everyone agree.

The girls wake up and get in to the flat to organize their things and cook anything to eat.

When everything was ready and tidy, they asked for a pizza, because none wanted to cook after the travel. So, the pizza arrived, they eat it fast (because everybody was very hungry) and cleaned all.

-Hey, what can we do now? – asked Mary!

-I think we should call our families to say we got well, and after, we can watch a movie. – everybody agreed with the idea, but when they would call them, they perceived that the phone didn't had area.

-Oh oh! I think that we are just by ourselves here. – Julia said.

Louisa picked up her notebook and found an internet connection, so, she opened her e-mail and warned their parents that they were fine. Later, they chosen a movie, made popcorn, and watched the film.

When the film was finishing, the girls went sleeping, because all them were very tired. It had been a long day, and the holiday was just getting started. They needed energy to “survive” and enjoying these days. The mattresses were all in the room, and the girls lay down.

-It’s so good hear the sound of the sea! – said Anna
– Good night to everyone!

-Good night!

-Sweet dreams to us, see you tomorrow! – said Mary.

So, at the flat, finally, was just silent and dark.

Julia awaked with a shine upon her eyes. She heard the sea sound and remembered where she was. She woke up and went to the balcony. A cool breeze blew in her face. The sensation was amazing.

“Wow, I’m in this wonderful beach, enjoying this great sunshine with this sound and climate. I can’t complain. Everything is perfect!!” – Julia was in a paradise.

-Hey! Are you enjoying this beautiful morning? –
Anna said when she was coming to the balcony.

-Yeah! It’s so great! Thank you for invite me to coming. It looks it will be a wonderful experience!

-Haha! Yes! How couldn’t I invite you?

The two girls got in and did the breakfast. Louisa and Mary slept a half hour more and then they woke up and ate the breakfast too.

-Let's go to the beach? – suggested Julia.

-I think it's a good idea! Are you ready? – Mary asked.

-No we aren't yet. Hahaha! We have just woke up. – Louisa defended.

-Hahaha! Ok... Let's go get ready to enjoying the day! We can do many things today! – Anna motivate everybody.

In a half hour they were ready and went to the beach. The sun was shining brighter that the last day, seagulls were flying about the sea, the waves roared incessantly.

Julia took of her flip-flops and stepped at the sand. She felt the sand between her toes. That feeling was nice. She didn't think twice and ran toward the water. It was a little cold, but she loved it.

In some minutes, the girls were in a water war. It was water flying to every side; the girls ran and watered each other. They couldn't stop laughing. Actually they were having fun! They soon were wet, so they running to sea.

Next there, some boys were surfing. Julia and Anna liked it and were approaching them. They wanted learn surf. The boys looked and called them to try. The girls looked each other, thought some minutes and gone surf.

It wasn't so easy how it liked, but they trying, trying and trying. They were laughing so much, because one had a more beautiful fall than the other. The fun was guaranteed. The boys were invited to have lunch with them, and they accepted the invitation.

The lunch was on the beach. Everybody sat in the sand to eat their hamburgers. After lunch, Mary pick the guitar that she took and play some music. It was a perfect climate to play music sitting on the beach. The sun was shining above them, the birds was singing. Everything was beautiful.

Julia remembered that she didn't checked her notifications on the phone, she would do it, but when took the phone, she saw that didn't had internet area yet.

"What can I do now without internet area in my phone? I can't get into the sea because it's too hot and I have just eat. Oh, I know! I will read!!"

So, Julia started to read a book that she had. She didn't could let the book to early, she loved the story and couldn't stop to read. When she was in the middle of the book, the others called her to play volleyball, then she left the book, but she couldn't see the time to pick it again and back to its story.

The afternoon was gone to fast. They played volleyball, they made a new water war, they surfed again, they walked on the beach and played more music. Everybody was so tired that the girls said good bye to the boys and returned to their flat. There, they eat something and gone to the bed. Just Julia still awake to read some pages from the book. She would know what will happen in the story. However, she was so tired that after a half hour she slept too.

The other day was full again. They woke up early to enjoying their last day on the beach. After eat breakfast and be ready, they got out.

When they arrived on the beach, Mary and Anna picked the rackets and a small ball to play in the sand. Louisa wanted to get a little bronzed, so she lay under the Sun. Julia used this time to finish her book. She couldn't forget it since she doesn't finished it.

"I didn't know that a book can be so interesting. I can't stop to read. How can that I never read before? Why have I stayed constantly in phone and didn't use the time to do something more interesting?" - was the only thing that Julia could think about.

Some guys were surfing near there, and suddenly, the girls hear a shout. They ran there to see what was happening. When they were arrived in the place the boys were, they could see that one boy was lying with a bump on the head. They discovered that when he was surfing, a wave cover him, he fall and hits his head on the board.

When they looked to the watch, they perceived that was time to go home. They needed go back in one hour. The girls returned to the flat, organized all their things and cleaned the flat. They put everything in the car and everyone went one more time to the balcony, to see the incredible scenery. It was breathtaking.

They get in the car and started the travel back home. The travel back home look faster.

In the trip, the girls could learn that they didn't need be connected in the internet in every moment, and that they could find a lot of things very interesting to do to be happy and have fun.
